The DIAMONDBACK Gazette

GENRE OF THE MONTH

REALISTIC FICTION:

Realistic fiction books are stories that are depicting our modern world. They have problems that are faced in real life, they also have characters with backgrounds that people can relate to.

BOOK SPOTLIGHT

Stormlight Archive

The Stormlight Archive by Brandon Sanderson is a thrilling series that takes place in Roshar, a world where storms rage and men with light colored eyes rule. Six years ago the king Gavilar discovered a new group of creatures with marble colored skin called Parshendi. After some time, the humans and Parshendi come to an agreement and make peace. On the night when they made the treaty, the king Gavilar was assassinated. Soon after, Elhokar, the son of Gavilar, led the ten Highprinces in a war against the Parshendi that would last for six years. This book is told through the perspective of many different people including Shallan, a minor light-eyed woman whose family and lands are in danger, Kaladin, a slave in the war camp of Highprince Torol Sadeas and Dalinar, the brother of Gavilar and Highprince of House Kholin, and a several more minor characters such as Szeth, the Assassin in White, and Adolin the son of Dalinar and heir to House Kholin. This series is full of magic, secrets, and mystery and is one of my favorites because of the depth and detail!
